South Beloit, IL, September 12, 2008 - Libertarian U.S. Senate Candidate Larry Stafford has received the endorsement of Chicago-based Tax Accountability 2008, the political action affiliate of National Taxpayers United of Illinois.

In a letter dated August 20, 2008, Jim Tobin, Chairman of Tax Accountability 2008 informs Stafford that: "You have distinguished yourself by signing the Taxpayer Protection Pledge to oppose any effort to increase taxes." Tobin further writes: "This endorsement is given in recognition of your exceptional desire to fight taxes and further the cause of vitally needed fiscal integrity."

National Taxpayers United of Illinois (NTUI) is the largest and most effective statewide taxpayer group in Illinois. NTUI was founded in 1976 and, since that time, has saved Illinois citizens over $74 billion in income, property, sales and other taxes — at both the state and local levels.

"I am honored to receive this endorsement," said Stafford. "Jim Tobin and NTUI have been fighting the good fight for the taxpayers of Illinois for decades, and, if elected, I am determined to act as a watchdog for Illinois taxpayers in the United States Senate," he added. "Wasted taxpayer dollars on unsuccessful government programs and unnecessary foreign conflicts must stop," said Stafford. "Hard working families in this country deserve to keep more of their money to better help pay their mortgage, put food on the table, and see that their children get a good education and a better future," he said.
